DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) THE NAMES OF THE PARTIES TO A JOINT RESEARCH AGREEMENT.
- (e) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC.
- (f) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.
 - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (g) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (h) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (i) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (j) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (l) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 3656

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 8 and 12-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Miyazaki USP 4035044.

Miyazaki discloses a similar device comprising:

Re clm 8:

- An outer ring (31, fig 4), which is provided with an inner, annular bearing surface (33, fig 4) and an outer, annular peripheral surface (35, fig 4)
- Said outer peripheral surface is eccentric to said inner bearing surface
- The bearing is a roller bearing

Re clm 12:

- Said outer ring is provided with recesses (67, fig 10)

Re clm 13:

- Said recesses of said outer ring are in the form of at least two front holes that are oriented parallel to an axis of rotation of the bearing (fig 10)

Re clm 14:

- The step of adjusting a position of a gear mechanism for a meshing engagement in a manner substantially free of play (col 3, lines 3-8)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Miyazaki USP 4035044 as applied to claim 8 above, and further in view of Schaede USP 5575572.

Miyazaki discloses all the claimed subject matter as described above.

Although Miyazaki does indeed disclose a radial grooved roller bearing, he not disclose:

Re clm 9:

- Said bearing is a grooved ball bearing

Re clm 10:

- Said bearing is a radial grooved ball bearing

Schaede teaches a bearing device comprising balls.

Since both Miyazaki and Schaede disclose bearing devices, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to substitute the rollers of Miyazaki with the balls of Schaede to achieve the predictable result of creating a reduced friction bearing.

5. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Miyazaki USP 4035044 as applied to claim 8 above.

Miyazaki discloses all the claimed subject matter as described above.

Miyazaki does not disclose:

- The eccentricity (e) is in a range of from 10 μm to 200 μm

Art Unit: 3656

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide an eccentricity being in a range from 10 μm to 200 μm , since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Mc Kenzie USP 4909641 discloses a similar device.
